A Year of Rediscovering the Richness of Working Together

What a year!! The first half we went gangbusters with partnerships and services galore, exceeding past thresholds and charging forward. We won recognition as one of the 20 best places in Southwest Michigan to work from Moody on the Market. Reader's Choice voted Region IV Area Agency on Aging the best not-for-profit in the region, and we brought home the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging's top national honor for service innovation in regards to Opioids: Safe use, Safe Storage, a Healthier You; a partnership with Berrien County Health Department to bring opioid education to isolated seniors.

Then came COVID-19 and what did we do? We pivoted, went remote and re-invented ourselves to figure out the new world. Partnering with the state and working with local mask makers to distribute masks to vulnerable adults and the direct care workers helping them was first and foremost.

The Campus for Creative Aging went virtual and expanded its reach. We partnered with the state and many community organizations in multiple food distribution efforts to provide weekly quarantine boxes, produce boxes, and dairy boxes.

AAA staff whose jobs changed dramatically shifted to launch Friendly Callers to create weekly connections to help fight isolation. Partnering with AAA's many in-home service provider affiliates, we crafted a Rapid Response COVID discharge system to assist hospitals and health departments respond successfully when COVID positive seniors chose to convalesce at home.

Hard, heart-breaking, exhausting. We learned again the richness and strength of what an inter-dependent community can do together.

The work continues - our sincere thanks to all,

Lynn Kellogg
CEO Region IV
Area Agency on Aging

Region IV Area Agency on Aging

A private not-for-profit corporation established in 1974

Area Agency on Aging (AAA) offers programs and services that make a difference in the lives of all older adults.

AAA staff are Specialists in Aging working to ensure the highest quality of life, throughout life. Efforts are focused on performing three primary roles:

1. Planners and Developers of a network of community supports and services to assure choices and enable people to maintain their independence and dignity.
2. Access Experts helping people connect with the information and resources they need.
3. Advocates on behalf of older individuals and persons with disabilities.

AAA maintains services largely through contracts and purchase agreements with local provider organizations and monitors agencies to ensure the job is done efficiently and effectively.

Services available through the Area Agency on Aging fall into the following categories: Community-Based Services, Access Services, In-Home Services, Elder Rights, Advocacy, and services or activities that AAA co-sponsors or participates in through Community Collaborations. The report of activities on the following pages is organized by those main service categories. Clients may be duplicated among service categories.

Access Services

Client Impact Story: Finally Able to Afford His Insulin

Joseph* could not afford the $600 cost of insulin to manage his diabetes. To reduce cost, he often rationed his insulin to make it last longer.

After calling the Area Agency on Aging Information Line for Aging and Disability, Joseph was connected to the Michigan Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program (MMAP).

MMAP staff helped Joseph apply for financial assistance to pay for his medications. The "Extra Help" program dropped his insulin out of pocket costs from $600 to just $8.95.

Because of MMAP, Joseph can stop rationing his insulin.

"Joseph cried when I told him it dropped the cost to $8.95 per month. Like so many people out there, he didn't know there were services available that were designed to help him, and that is what we are able to do with MMAP. We connect people in need to the services that can greatly help their lives and health," says Mistelle Sleight, Region IV AAA MMAP Regional Coordinator.

Access Services provide people with information and streamlined access to services that improve their ability to make educated decisions regarding their options for independent lives.

In-Home Services

Client Impact Story: A Place of His Own

Last year Steve found himself in danger of being homeless and in need of major medical attention. His home had been condemned, and he needed three toes amputated due to developing gangrene from frostbite.

He checked into a facility and after surgery and extensive physical therapy, he learned how to walk again. As he became healthier, he wanted to have his own place again; to be independent.

"I am a God-fearing man and I know a blessing when I see one. And Area Agency on Aging has been a blessing."

Steve worked with AAA staff to make that happen. Together, they identified the steps to reaching Steve's goals. The Area Agency on Aging Nursing Home Transition program coordinated everything Steve needed for a successful transition to living an independent life. "They helped me find my apartment, helped me fill out the application and submit it, and helped me get my full Social Security Disability Insurance. They helped me find a way to pay the first month rent and the deposit, got me furniture, and everything I need in the apartment," says Steve.

Volunteer Services

Volunteer Impact Story: A Heart for Children

Lucille "Granny" Evans began volunteering with Area Agency on Aging's Foster Grandparent Program in 1999.

Since then she has helped hundreds of elementary school age children learn their sounds, letters, numbers, and more importantly, has given them someone to rely on when they need extra help.

The program provides a way for volunteers age 55 and over to stay active by serving children and youth in their communities, while also connecting children to a caring older mentor in the classroom.

"I have had such great experiences with the children. I get joy out of helping kids. I feel good when I am helping a child learn," Says Granny Evans. "I take their little fingers and show them how to trace the letters and help them (recognize) the shapes."

She stays in contact with many of her students and feels joyful every time she sees one of 'her kids' graduate.

For 21 years, 88-year-old, Granny Evans has been helping children succeed while staying active herself.

*Area Agency on Aging volunteers served a total of 113,322 hours in FY 2020. The value of their service back to the community is greater than $2.7M**

Advocacy

FY 2020 AAA's advocacy efforts focused on highlighting the many reasons why the state, nation, and policymakers need to enable older adults to age safely in their homes by providing critical supports and services through the Older Michiganian's Act, Older Americans Act, Medicaid, Medicare and other policy strategies.

Staff served on the Older Michiganian's Day (OMD) and Silver Key Coalition steering committees as well as the Olmstead Coalition.

Region IV AAA led the state in facilitating a write-in letter campaign in support of the 2020 OMD platform giving seniors a direct voice in advocacy conversations. Over 600 handwritten letters from older adults in southwest Michigan were sent to state legislators in support of the OMD platform. Call-in information was provided to 300 seniors enabling them to call and directly advocate for themselves.

Staff met with state and federal elected officials, and participated in four tele-town halls to educate policy makers and the general public about the struggles older adults face due to COVID.

Two AAA delegates met virtually ten times in FY 2020 with the state Michigan Senior Advocates Council to be educated on policy issues and meet virtually with legislators to advocate for issues of importance to Michigan's older population and younger persons with disabilities.

Staff provided AAA Board, Advisory Council, service providers and other interested parties with advocacy alerts and information on public policy issues impacting older adults and younger persons with disabilities throughout the year.

Senior Action Day
#ActionForSeniors #AgingStrong

Dear Representatives (Governor, Senate & House Representatives)

The services have saved my life and made my life more livable and safe. My mind is stronger & I would not fit into a nursing home. But I can live more independently in my apartment. Thank-you for reading this letter. I know millions of Seniors feel the same as I do.

Sincerely, n

Local and National Awards

Region IV AAA is known nationally and locally for its innovative efforts. Thanks to the diligence of its staff, volunteers, board, advisory council and community partners, Region IV AAA was recognized with the following local and national awards in FY 2020:

1st Place National Aging Innovations Award for 'Opioids: Safe use, Safe Storage, a Healthier You'

Community Collaborations

Region IV Area Agency on Aging believes in the power of collaboration. The spirit of collaboration inspires ideas, strengthens advocacy, expands programs, and ultimately provides access to new tools and resources in order to widen the range of services for older adults and people with disabilities. Area Agency on Aging is proud to collaborate with the following organizations and businesses to create programs and services that will benefit older adults, caregivers and people with disabilities.

Rapid Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) COVID-19 Response – AAA partnered with Spectrum Health Lakeland to ensure minority communities disproportionality impacted by COVID-19 had increased access to home-based services post-hospitalization or while convalescing from COVID-19 at home.

Aging Health Equity & Policy Planning Initiative – AAA partnered with Bronson Health System, InterCare Community Health Network, Senior Services of Van Buren County, Tri-County Head Start, Van Buren/Cass District Health Department, Van Buren Community Mental Health and Van Buren DHHS, to secure a 2-year planning grant aimed at creating an actionable plan to build community capacity & connectedness to address the root causes of disparate health outcomes among minority older adults through systems-level policy change.

Community of Care Transformation Strategy – AAA partnered with Spectrum Health Lakeland to secure a two-year grant aimed at developing a community-wide strategy for creating a person-centered community of care for older adults and caregivers. Project aim is to address structural and cultural barriers to person-directed, coordinated, quality care and support for aging people with complex care needs, inclusive of their caregivers.

Quarantine Boxes, Fresh Produce and Facemask distribution – Partnerships with Aging & Adult Services Administration, Berrien Community Foundation, Cass County Council on Aging, Senior Nutrition Services, Senior Services of Van Buren County, Southwest Michigan Community Action Agency, United Way of Southwest Michigan and numerous community volunteer mask-makers to distribute fresh produce, shelf-stable meals, and facemasks to seniors throughout the tri-county region.

Other Collaborations: AAA sits on numerous Boards, Councils and Committees and participates in other area collaborations. Some examples include:

Cornerstone Alliance, Healthy Berrien Consortium, Silver Key Coalition, Older Michigianians Day, three county Human Services Coordinating Councils and Continuum of Care groups, TRIAD, Berrien, Cass and Van Buren County Public Transit, Foundations and United Way of Southwest Michigan, Berrien Community Foundation, Michigan Homeless Assistance, Chief Elected Officials Council, Great Start Collaborative, Strategic Leadership Council, Van Buren County Health Committee and more.

Region IV Area Agency on Aging COVID-19 Response

Regional Impact Data Report

In March of 2020 Region IV Area on Aging was called to action to care for the population most vulnerable to the COVID-19 pandemic. Through partnerships with the State of Michigan, aging network partners, United Way, Berrien Community Foundation, countless volunteers, and dedicated staff, we were able to keep the older adults of Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren Counties safe, informed, fed, and connected.

141,289 Meals
Home Delivered
Meals to Area Seniors

During the shelter in place order we experienced a 56% increase in the need for meal delivery to area seniors. Through providing support to our community partners, Senior Nutrition Services and Cass County Council on Aging, we were able to facilitate this need.

5,800 Phone Calls
Friendly Calls To
Isolated Seniors

AAA launched a friendly caller initiative to serve isolated seniors. This phone line provides reassurance, helps connect them to services they may need, and ensures they are not feeling lonely or isolated while sheltering in place and staying safe.

$682,082
Support for Direct
Care Workers

AAA provided support for direct care workers serving COVID positive seniors, other vulnerable adults and younger persons with disabilities, by providing increased hazard pay, childcare cost support, personal protective equipment, and gas cards for transportation.

4,500 Face Masks
Collected for Seniors & Caregivers

Volunteer groups and area non-profits helped us sew, secure, and coordinate, mailing face masks to all the clients we serve, and many of the family caregivers who help them. This gives them an added layer of protection when care providers, and eventually visitors, come into their homes.

8,384 Food Boxes
Shelf Stable Meals &
Fresh Produce

AAA took the helm coordinating non-profits, senior centers, Meals on Wheels, commodity sites, and food banks for distribution and delivery of quarantine boxes and fresh produce boxes provided by the state and the USDA. These boxes nourished seniors who couldn't go to the grocery store.

34,747 Hours
Providing Individual
Care & Counselling

Our Care Management and Provider Network team continued providing care for COVID-19's most vulnerable population. In addition, our Information & Assistance line received 3,000 unduplicated calls for person specific needs and answered United Way's MI-211 forwarded calls.

As the COVID-19 Pandemic continues, we remain committed to helping our region navigate these uncertain times. We have created a ZOOM instruction guide for older adults to learn how to join online classes, and connect with their families and friends virtually. We continue to post helpful information on our social media pages with an average engagement rate of 913 unique users per day. We also will continue weekly friendly-calls to area seniors, to help anyone needing food and/or meal delivery, and share vital information with the community.

COVID 19 Response

Client Impact Story: Rapid COVID HBCS Response Helps Family

Mark learned his mom and dad were not responding to wellness calls, so he called his mom right away. When she answered, her voice sounded weak.

He drove to his parents home in Benton Harbor from Lansing to check on them. When he walked into the house, both were burning up with fever. He took them to the E.R. and learned they both had COVID.

After a lengthy hospital stay, Mark got word his mom would be cleared to go home but she was too weak to cook, clean the house, shop for necessities, or bath herself regularly. His dad still needed inpatient care.

Mark didn't know what to do. He still had a full-time job in Lansing. That's when Mark connected with Area Agency on Aging's Rapid Response COVID-19 Home & Community Based Services.

"I can't say enough about what she (AAA Care Manager) did for us. She was a bright light in our family's darkest time,"

-Mark AAA Client's Son.

AAA Care Management staff arranged for the delivery of two meals per day and for a Direct Care Worker to come to the house twice a day to help with personal care and household chores. Mark says it was a big relief to know his mom was taken care of and there was someone there to help his mom when he couldn't be there.

Client Impact Story: Friendly Caller Service Fights Isolation

Many older American's found themselves isolated and unable to connect with family and friends during the pandemic. By the third week of the stay at home order, 66-year-old Sandra* was overwhelmed with loneliness and was growing desperate.

That's when she reached out for help and got connected to the AAA Friendly Caller Program.

Staffed with caring, trained and carefully screened volunteers, the Friendly Caller Program provides friendly reassurance, helps seniors connect to needed resources, and most importantly, makes sure seniors are not feeling lonely or isolated.

Open to any senior who would like to connect with a friendly person to talk to while sheltering in place during the pandemic, the Friendly Caller Program soon became a lifeline for many. Including Sandra.

"This phone line is the reason I am doing better"
